Fasching and Alcohol Safety

- During Fasching Events, traffic accidents and deaths occur more often.
- To avoid intoxication, remember the one/one rule; one drink per hour to rid yourself of each half ounce of alcohol.
- Be sure you eat before you drink, food can help to absorb some of the alcohol in the stomach.
- Feel free to refuse alcohol for any reason – regardless of pressure or encouragement to drink.
- Don't let your friends drive drunk – arrange for a designated driver, a taxi or a place to spend the night.
- Celebrate Fasching sober, can also be a lot of fun!
- Don't drink if your pregnant.
- Never drink on an empty stomach.
- Don't drink out of someone else's glass, you don't know what may be in it.

222d Base Support Battalion

Stay safe during the parades

- Keep your children a safe distance from the parade wagons.
- Don't allow your kids to run into the street to pick up the goodies which are thrown from the wagons.
- Watch out for strangers “accidentally” bumping into you. This is how pickpockets distract their victims.
- Put the flap of your shoulder bag against your body, keep your arm around it, or wear your purse under your coat.
